R*n 977 — The Streets are Alive with the Sounds of Hashing

BH3's Christmas celebration, set by Urang(167) and Phay Wray(250)
from the Burnie Civic Plaza, December 21st, 2008.

*The pack: Giggles(29), Tals(240), Nicer pair-a-tiffs(186), Slack Mac(411), Bastard(306),
Flasher(24), Speed Hump(335), Chunder(175), GonZo(155), A Bit of This(136) and Truly,
Dyke(55), Tracka(99), Tinsel(19), Boom Boom(1), DT(86), Carol(DT's mum)(1), Prickle(3), Ringo(617), Dini(372), Knickers(268), Cathy Stott(1).*

Reindeers, red noses and whiskers on Santas,
Bright plastic Hashits and red velvet panties
Brown paper packages, sex toys within,
These are a few of our favourite things.

Harriettes in red trackies with cameltoe gashes,
White stuff that sticks to Phay Wray's tits and lashes,
Itchy felt Santa suits tied up with strings,
These are a few of our favourite things.

Cream-covered honeys with waxed apple strudels,
Trolleys with sleigh bells and Tinsel on doodles,
Old geezers flashing their moons and their rings,
These are a few of our favourite things.

Fishnets on hashmen and whiskers on muffins,
Boas and Boomers, cold turkey with stuffing,
Oversized packages wearing G-strings,
Hashing is full of our favourite things.

When Slack Mac bites, when DT stings,
When we're all Christmas mad,
We simply drink more of our favourite things,
And then we don't feel so bad...

R*n 978—New Year's Posh Stroll to the Terrace, set by Speed Hump (336), December 31st, 2008.

The pack: Ringo(618), Muffin Stroker(5), Dyke(56), Dini(373), Knickers(269).

The proprietors of "The King of Burnie" share a joke with some of their Burnie Hash guests. The joke was what they were serving as champagne.

More piss-weak jokes from the dregs of 2008's emails

The Reverend John Flapps was the pastor of a small town church in Ireland. One day he was walking down the High Street and he noticed a young lady of his congregation sitting in a pub drinking beer. The Reverend wasn't happy. He walked through the open door of the pub and sat down next to the woman. 'Mrs Fitzgerald,' he said sternly. 'This is no place for a member of my congregation. Why don't you let me take you home?' 'Sure,' she said with a slur, obviously very drunk. When Mrs Fitzgerald stood up from the bar, she began to weave back and forth. The Reverend realized that she'd had far too much to drink and grabbed her arms to steady her. When he did, they both lost their balance and tumbled to the floor. After rolling around for a few moments, the Reverend wound up on top of Mrs. Fitzgerald, her skirt hiked up to her waist. The pub landlord looked over and said, 'Oi Mate, we won't have any of that carrying on in this pub.' The Reverend looked up at the landlord and said, 'But you don't understand, I'm Pastor Flapps.' The landlord nodded and said, 'Oh well, if you're that far in, you might as well finish.'

A passenger in a taxi leaned over to ask the driver a question and tapped him on the shoulder. The driver screamed, Lost control of the cab, nearly hit a bus, drove up over the curb, and stopped just inches from a large plate glass window. For a few moments everything was silent in the cab, and then the still shaking driver said, 'I'm sorry, but you scared the daylight out of me.' The frightened passenger apologized to the driver and said he didn't realise a mere tap on the shoulder could frighten him so much. The driver replied, 'No, no, I'm sorry, it's entirely my fault. Today is my first day driving a cab..... I've been driving a hearse for the last 25 years.'

A lady walks into Tiffany's. She browses around, spots a beautiful diamond bracelet and walks over to inspect it. As she bends over to look more closely she inadvertently breaks wind.

Very embarrassed, she looks around nervously to see if anyone has noticed her little accident and prays that a sales person doesn't pop up right now.

As she turns around, her worst nightmare materializes in the form of a salesman standing right behind her.

Cool as a cucumber and displaying complete professionalism, the salesman greets the lady with, 'Good day, Madam. How may we help you today?'

Very uncomfortably, but hoping that the salesman may just not have been there at the time of her little 'accident', she asks, 'Sir, what is the price of this lovely bracelet?'

He answers, 'Madam, if you farted just looking at it, you're going to shit yourself when I tell you the price.'

High Noon for Full Moon January 10th, 2009

In 1901 the newly-formed nation of Australia was drawn into its first conflict, as an empire took on some upstart colonials on the African continent.

In 2009 the battle in the Beer Beer War continues in Tasmania as the forces of Lord Ringo's Boags Empire take on the rag-tag Cascade colonials, led by Grizzly van der Kuunt, at the border territory of Ross.

The charge of the Light Beer Brigade begins at noon on Saturday 10th January 2009, and forces should marshal in full regalia outside the Ross Caravan Park.

Soldiers should bring their own meat rations and an extra canteen, lest you suffer from strong thirst.

Forces assigned to remain on the battlefield overnight will need to arrange their own bivouac.

Boags forces can receive further orders from Lt Col Dini (dini@dhash.com), while Cascade colonials can contact Grizzly (grizzly@dhash.com).
